WE DELIVER IMPACT THROUGH INNOVATION

(Who we are)

We are a global strategy & innovation consultancy founded in Silicon Valley that supports organisations in realising projects through the use of innovative methodologies.

We are the meeting point between innovation, transformation and technology in the agri-food sector. Our service model helps organisations monitor and understand the market, transform organisations to better adapt to a changing world and become an entrepreneurial organisation.

We consolidated an ecosystem of innovation and technology experts from around the world, sharing knowledge and expertise. Editors of the MIT Technology Review magazine in Spanish and Italian.

(Product description)

Open Innovation

Understanding the market is the starting point for innovation. Our open innovation team provides our clients with market intelligence, helps create innovation ecosystems and fosters collaboration with one of the richest startup ecosystems in the world.

People Growth

We help transform organisations by implementing a growth mindset, adapting culture to the new rules of the game of the digital economy and reinventing processes and ways of working by becoming more agile, more entrepreneurial and closer to our customers.

Venture Building

The biggest challenge for organisations is to adapt their value proposition to a changing world. We support our customers by designing and implementing new products, prototypes or even entire businesses.
