

Why Alberta?

Alberta, Canada is a great place to expand or relocate your business in North America. Global connectivity, high quality of life, affordability, low tax rates, less red tape, and access to a skilled workforce are key reasons why global enterprises have established a presence in the province. Alberta provides the environment for your corporation to scale at the speed of your business.

The Numbers

$707M

Invested into 86 companies in 2023

#1

Highest real GDP per hour worked of Canada's four largest economies

33%

Reduction in red tape earning the highest score in both the regulatory accountability and regulatory burden sections of all Canadian provinces

The Opportunity

1st

Leads the country in forecasted economic growth

23%

Alberta's combined federal-provincial business tax rate is lower than that of 44 U.S. states

$43B+

Private equity invested in Alberta companies since 2013

Sectors

Agriculture

Alberta is expanding its agricultural sector through innovation, technology, and the development of new bio-based products.

Financial Services

Alberta is home to the world's largest finance players and exciting fintech startups, all supported and driven by a skilled workforce.

Aviation & Logistics

Alberta is building its cargo capacity, leveraging innovative robotics and AI technology to streamline logistics, and developing the talent needed to be Canada's aviation and logistics centre.

Petrochemicals

Alberta's petrochemical sector is a major producer of methane, ethane, ethylene, and propane, and is becoming a leader in low-carbon hydrogen and methanol production.

Energy & Cleantech

Alberta is a global leader in energy production and one of the world's leading investment destinations for renewable, carbon capture, and hydrogen investments.

Technology & Innovation

Alberta has a young, diverse, and educated workforce, great quality of life, and a cohesive ecosystem, providing the ideal environment to launch or scale a tech company.

Notable Investments

Air Products is building the world's largest $1.3B net-zero hydrogen production facility in Edmonton, Alberta.

Amazon Web Services announces $4.3B to establish cloud computing operation in Calgary.

Brane plans Alberta headquarters, growing fintech and blockchain ecosystems.

EY chooses Alberta as home for its Canadian Finance Centre of Excellence.

GoodLeaf Farms, Canada's largest commercial vertical farming company, is expanding its operations to Calgary thanks to a boost from the Alberta government's Investment and Growth Fund.

Why Alberta?

Young & Educated Talent

Top Business Schools

Alberta is home to two of Canada's top business schools: University of Alberta School of Business (#5) and University of Calgary Haskayne School of Business (#10). Alberta has 26 post-secondary institutions across the province with a combined enrollment of more than 203,000 students.

Young & Highly Educated

Alberta has one of the highest proportions of workers under the age of 45, and 56 per cent of Albertans are post-secondary educated.

Attractive Lifestyle

Dynamic, Affordable Cities

Calgary and Edmonton's high quality of life and low housing prices make them two of North America's most vibrant, livable, and affordable cities.

Political & Economic Stability

Sound Banking System

The World Economic Forum has consistently ranked Canada's banking system as one of the world's soundest.

Stable Political Environment

Canada scores in the top 30 of the World Bank's Political Stability Index.

Access to Key Markets

Globally Connected

Alberta's world-class infrastructure supports business development and growth. The province's internationally integrated airports, market access, and telecommunication network make it a hub for companies looking to do business worldwide.

Low Cost of Doing Business

Access to Affordable, Quality Office Space

Calgary and Edmonton have ample affordable downtown Class A office space.

Alberta's Tax Advantage

Alberta businesses and residents pay the lowest overall taxes in the country and amongst the lowest in North America.

Big. Bold.
Alberta.